

1952 September 26 6:30am in the morning Ellen Rosen is on her way to Washington Dc to see the black history museum .... but she didn't know she would meet somebody on the way.

I am finally here!
I can't wait to go
to the black history museum.

Now lets get out of here

*Time Skip***

Who is this lady
and why is she
following me?

IT STINKS

She was on her way to the museum when she came over a newspaper about Rosa Parks.

What's this Rosa Parks. I heard of her going there right now. I will go. That's at the museum.

come see Rosa
Parks talk about
her life

I am finally here.

That's all see
you.

Oh well then
meet me
outside.

Wait! May I talk to you for a bit.

Of course I can tell you. I started the bus
boycott.

so can you tell me
about your life
because I really want to know

Its fine at least you didn't "gasped" like
other people but
some of them are civilized

sorry I was so ignorant about
asking about
your life

so what about your life

ya I am jewish and my friend saved my life

*After a while of talking***

your welcome see you soon maybe?

thank you for talking with me I have to go now
